Minerva Mirillo

is a mild and pleasant, but exceedingly effective aperient, keeping the blood pure, regulating the liver, clearing the complexion, removing gouty matter from the system, and generally warding off disease. Made from, and containing all the valuable properties of, ripe fruit. Prized by travelers, seafaring men, and residents in hot climates. A sure preventive of diarrhoea, and a delightful invigorator of the constitution. When used simply as an effervescent beverage, it has most salutary results. Her gross tonnage is 4,425, length 375 feet, beam 47 feet, and depth 33.3 feet. She is fitted with triple-expansion engines and lighted throughout with electricity. She has a large promenade deck, which is closed in with awning. The social hall and first and second saloons are amidship and are luxuriously furnished. The woodwork is of polished oak. The Tartar's lifeboats are numerous enough to form a small flotilla.

The following are the deck officers of the Tartar: H. Pybus, master; J. H. Davis, chief officer; F. W. McLaughlin, 2nd; H. Calder, ex 2nd; A. W. Ralph, 3rd; M. W. Byrne, chief engineer; Campbell Davidson, M. D., surgeon; A. S. Bourne, purser; and Mrs. Clay, stewardess.
